

Disclosure of Commercial Interests

The corresponding author must sign a statement disclosing:

- (1) any financial interest in or arrangement with a company whose product was used in a study or is referred to in a manuscript;
- (2) any financial interest in or arrangement with a competing company; and
- (3) any other financial connections, direct or indirect, or other situations that might raise the question of bias in the work reported or the conclusions, implications, or opinions stated, including employment, consultancies, stock ownership, honoraria, expert testimony, personal relationships, direct academic competition, or pertinent commercial or other sources of funding for the individual author(s) or for the associated department(s) or organization(s).

Any relevant financial support must be identified in an acknowledgment in the manuscript.

If you or any of your co-authors have a conflict of interest, it must be disclosed on the form below and should be returned to the journal office. Co-authors with a conflict of interest must send in a signed copy of this form to the journal office. If no conflict of interest statement is received from you or your co-authors, the journal office will assume that no conflict of interest exists.

Please complete one of the following sections:

A. Conflict of interest statement

Example: I hold stock in [business name], the makers of [product name], and am currently conducting research sponsored by this company.

My statement is as follows:

Signature/Date

Print Name

Title of manuscript (or manuscript number if known)

B. No conflict of interest

I/we have had no involvements that might raise questions of bias in the work reported or in the conclusions, implications, or opinions stated.

 13-May-2015
Signature/Date

Dominik D. LaRoche
Print Name

Malaria Prevention: Are high-risk households in Kenya receiving treatments?
Title of manuscript (or manuscript number if known)